A Portrait of the Artist as a Young Man is the first novel of Irish writer James Joyce. A Künstlerroman in a modernist style, it traces the religious and intellectual awakening of young Stephen Dedalus, a fictional alter ego of Joyce and an allusion to Daedalus, the consummate craftsman of Greek mythology.

Joseph Irwin Miller was a former Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Cummins Inc. from 1934 until his retirement from the Company in 1977, with time off for service during World War II.

A Portrait of Leadership (Psalm 23:1-6)

A portrait of a graduate can serve as a north star to drive transformation of traditional school models. Developing a portrait of a graduate pushes educators to articulate the full range of outcomes they want for their graduates, and work backwards from there to build a school model in which each element maps directly to the identified outcomes.
