

Opera House Lottery Zaha Hadid And The Cardiff Bay Project

The opera house, which also has no resident opera company, cost more than £130 million to build over five years and has been praised as a triumph for its architect, the Iraq-born Zaha Hadid.

Designed by Zaha Hadid, the new Guangzhou Opera House is gorgeous to look at. It is also a magnificent example of how a single building can redeem a moribund urban environment.

Zaha Hadid Architects have developed designs for a new opera house and cultural centre for Dubai. The dune-shaped building is proposed for an island off Dubai Creek. More info from Zaha Hadid ...

Zaha's design for the opera house, which was set to become a landmark in Wales, was cancelled on 22 December 1995, even after winning the competition for its design twice. This was after the project's funder, Britain's National Lottery, withdrew its commitment from her designs, describing them as too avant garde, giving the commission to a less ambitious architect.

Guangzhou Opera House | Architect Magazine

Cardiff Bay Opera House was a proposed centre for the performing arts in Cardiff Bay, Cardiff, Wales, conceived in the 1990s as a crucial part of the Cardiff Bay redevelopment project. One aim of the scheme was to create a new home for the Welsh National Opera company, which was then based in the New Theatre in Cardiff. The Wales Millennium Centre was built in its place and it opened in 2004.
